Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I object to the settlement with Microsoft as it is currently proposed.

The settlement is a step in the right direction, but it is not sufficient to stop the harm that Microsoft's monopoly inflicts on consumers and competitors. I believe that it would leave Microsoft basically intact and with too much room to evade the settlement's provisions. Also, it would do too little to end the barrier to market entry that Windows' existing applications hold against all other operating systems. Further, the settlement would not end the barrier to entry that Windows' boot loader enforces against other operating systems.

I believe that we must have public proceedings under the Tunney Act to give consumers a voice in creating a fair settlement.

Thank you for your time in reading this message.
